Social Work for Sustainable Development:
Empowering Communities through Innovation, Inclusion and Partnership

The adoption of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development by the United Nations marked a global commitment to achieving the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and creating a more equitable, inclusive, and sustainable future.

While India has made notable progress toward the SDGs, persistent challenges continue to hinder inclusive development. Addressing these issues requires collaborative efforts among governments, academia, civil society, communities, industry, and development professionals.

In this collaborative effort, social work serves as a key profession that contributes to sustainable development by addressing social inequalities, promoting human rights and social justice, empowering individuals and communities, fostering environmental responsibility, and supporting inclusive and sustainable development initiatives.

Theme: Social Work for Sustainable Development: Empowering Communities through Innovation, Inclusion, and Partnership

SUB-THEMS

OBJECTIVES

- Foster interdisciplinary collaboration among academia, practitioners, policymakers, civil society, and communities to advance sustainable development.
- Promote innovative, inclusive, and evidence-based social work practices that strengthen resilient and sustainable communities.
- Explore strategies to address the social, economic, environmental, and cultural dimensions of sustainable development through research, policy, and practice.
- Facilitate the exchange of indigenous knowledge, community-led initiatives, and successful partnership models that contribute to sustainable development.
- Encourage research collaboration, knowledge exchange, and networking to support the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Call for Papers

We are calling for papers (for oral and poster presentations) that bring together novel solutions to development issues through social work and social development practices. All kinds of innovations will be considered, whether methodological, theoretical, social, technological, policy, practice-based or organisational and are of local relevance and/or have the potential for large-scale replication. Lessons learned from implementing evidence-based solutions, interdisciplinary approaches, and critiques of current solutions are also welcome.
